Long Biography

Stacy Claflin has always been an avid reader and a writer. When she was a teenager, she would always be in the middle of reading at least five books. Not only could she keep up with each story line, but she also never needed a bookmark! These days, she's lucky to remember what she went for in the kitchen.

There's more to her than writing and reading. She's the mom of two wonderful and adorable boys that she educates from home. She enjoys making jewelry and being active outside. She also enjoys watching a wide variety of shows: Supernatural, The Walking Dead, House of Cards, Once Upon a Time, Vampire Diaries, and more.

Stacy is a thyroid cancer survivor. She's been cancer free since 2008. (Get your thyroid checked!) If you want to get to know her even more, follow her on Pinterest. (<https://www.pinterest.com/growwithstacy/>) The boards are a real form of self-expression for her. You'll see what she loves, what inspires her, what she finds humorous, and so much more.

She has been writing stories ever since she could write out enough to make a story. Stacy can remember writing her first chapter story at about the age of nine. She kept spiral-bound notebooks, writing story after story.

Her earliest series was the "Jake 'N Joe" series, which she still has on the original construction paper. Jake and Joe were her cousins, often getting into mischief. They gave her an endless supply of story ideas. She would read the stories at family gatherings and the adults would roar with laughter every time.

Stacy was a senior in high school before her first story was typed on a computer. That was when her mom got her second computer and Stacy inherited the super cool green-screen computer that weighed almost as much as a car!

When in college, Stacy didn't have a lot of time for writing. She enjoyed writing so she made time to write small pieces at a time. She would write a chapter and then email it to friends. They always enjoyed them and couldn't wait for the next installment. That was the late-90's version of serialized stories!

Life got in the way after college and she stopped writing. Years later, Stacy felt like something was missing, and she finally figured out that she wanted to write and publish novels.

Stacy began writing her first published novel, Deception, right away. Ever since that day in April of 2012, she has spent a lot of time learning everything she could about being an author. It's a constant quest to improve her craft.

On February 13, 2015, Stacy became a full-time author. It's a real dream come true, and it only continues to get better. Her next big achievement was when her Gone Trilogy became a USA Today bestselling title. What will be next? Find her at: <http://stacyclaflin.com/>
